Student Report – Gohun Year 3

Comments

Gohun has shown very encouraging progress recently, particularly in his ability to concentrate during lessons. His improved focus has helped him develop important early English skills, and he is beginning to make steady progress in reading and speaking. Gohun approaches class activities with enthusiasm and enjoys participating in games and learning tasks. His growing confidence and positive attitude are helping him build a strong foundation in English.

Speaking & Listening

Gohun is confident when speaking in class and is willing to answer questions and participate in discussions. He listens to instructions and responds when encouraged, showing increasing confidence in using English. His willingness to speak up and take part in classroom activities is a very positive sign and helps him practise new language regularly. He sometimes needs to listen more carefully to instruction before answering incorrectly.

Reading & Phonics

Gohun has recently made noticeable progress in phonics. He is now able to remember many letter sounds and is beginning to blend these sounds together to form simple words. He occasionally loses focus or gets sloppy when reading, I'd like him to decode difficult words instead of guessing. This is an important step in early reading development, and his improvement in this area is very encouraging. With continued practice, his reading confidence and accuracy will continue to grow.

Grammar & Writing

At this stage, Gohun is focusing on building the basic skills needed for reading and writing. As he continues learning letter sounds and word formation, he is gradually developing the ability to recognise and write simple words. Continued practice with phonics and basic sentence structures will support his writing development.

Personal Expression & Conversation

Gohun enjoys participating in classroom games and activities and shows a positive and energetic attitude toward learning. He interacts well with others and is happy to join in when speaking activities are part of the lesson. His confidence in participating helps him practise English in a fun and supportive way.

Overall Strengths

Gohun's improved concentration, growing phonics skills, and willingness to participate in class are important strengths. His confidence in speaking and enthusiasm during games and activities make him an active and positive member of the class. He is able to remember a decent amount of vocabulary. He shows that he can understand well when he concentrates.

Recommendations for Improvement

Gohun should continue practising letter sounds and blending words to strengthen his reading ability. Regular review of class materials and phonics practice will help reinforce these skills. By maintaining his improved concentration and positive participation, he will continue to make steady progress in his English learning.
